5) Breakdown of eligible outstanding balance of guaranteed loans by location of the financed property by country:

All properties financed by home loans in the cover pool are located in France.

6) Breakdown of eligible outstanding balance of guaranteed loans by weighting assigned under the cover ratio between assets and privileged debt:

Home loans that are guaranteed by a credit institution (cautionnement) are guaranteed by Crédit Logement, the institution that does not take part in the scope of consolidation of La Banque Postale group.

The long-term ratings of Crédit Logement are Aa3 (Moody's last review dated 10/21/2021) and AAL (DBRS' last review dated 06/01/2022), therefore it benefits from the highest level of credit assessment, according to the French Regulation, hence the weighting assigned to home loans guaranteed by Crédit Logement is 100%. Home loans guaranteed by a first-ranking mortgage are weighted 100%.

7) Breakdown of outstanding balance of loans mobilized by promissory notes, under the articles L. 313-42 to L. 313-49 of French Monetary and Financial Code:

No loans mobilized by promissory notes under the home loans granted as collateral security.

III – Other exposures

Cash :

La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH holds two current accounts opened in the books of La Banque Postale, with a cumulative outstanding credit balance of EUR 26.2 millions as of 31 December 2022.

La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH also holds an account opened in the books the ECB, with an outstanding credit balance of EUR 6 721 as of 31 December 2022.

La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH has no hedging nor derivative instruments.

IV –Prepayments

The annualized prepayment rate calculated on the basis of home loan portfolio used as guarantee for the fourth quarter 2022 is 5.4%. The outstanding repaid as of this quarter is 334.9 millions euros. The percentages are expressed in terms of the cumulative prepayments for the quarter divided to the average outstanding loans at the end of the same quarter.

V – List of international identification numbers of the securities (bonds)

The international identification numbers of the securities are mentioned in section VIII.

VI – Exposure to market, credit and liquidity risk

1) Interest rate risk

The features (amount, maturity and type of interest rate) of the loans granted by La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH to La Banque Postale are identical to those of the covered bond issuances. The rates of these loans correspond to the issue rates plus a margin intended to cover the operating expenses of La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH. Consequently, the residual interest rate risk is considered negligible with regard to the amount of equity of La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH.

A Financial Management Committee dedicated to the SFH meets monthly and notably establishes the monitoring of structural rate risk and the projection of fixed rate positions from all balance sheet items viewed by transparency. La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH's balance sheet is made up of the following assets and liabilities:

- real estate loans making up the cover pool (100% at fixed rate loans);
- securities (100% in government bonds) replacing part of the equity;
- cash collateral account (granted by La Banque Postale to La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH) in order to cover 180-day cash requirements (zero interest rate);
- cash placed on a deposit account at La Banque Postale and, for a negligible part, on an account at the Banque de France;
- equity, restitution debt and adjustment accounts; assimilated to fixed rate (zero interest rate) positions;
- liabilities linked to the cash collateral account (zero interest rate);
- covered bonds (100% fixed rate bonds).

As the balance sheet items are made up of fixed rate assets and liabilities, with the exception of the Banque de France account and deposit account which represent an insignificant amount outstanding, this results in a structural fixed rate gap negligible over the residual life of the covered bonds.

Such a composition of balance sheet items allows a natural hedging strategy for the fixed rate gap. Finally, the sensitivity of the interest rate position is also negligible for the same reasons.

2) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk incurred in the event of the default of La Banque Postale. It is also the risk that La Banque Postale does not fulfil its commitments and in particular its repayment commitments with regard to La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH. The risk related to the default of La Banque Postale is covered by a Collateral security agreement set between La Banque Postale and La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH. This provides the transfer of full ownership of a portfolio of home loans granted by La Banque Postale Group to La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH. After the default of La Banque Postale, La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH would find itself directly exposed to the credit risk of this portfolio whose proceeds must ensure both the payment of interest and repayment of bonds issued. This credit quality could already have been downgraded at the time of the transfer, due to changes in La Banque Postale's lending and guarantee policy prior to its default. This cover pool is reviewed once a month and is set to ensure sufficient overcollateralisation. Annual stress tests are performed annually.

3) Liquidity risk

The liquidity risk associated with coupon payments is covered by 25 millions euros of cash pledge granted by La Banque to la Banque Postale Home Loan SFH; the coverage of the liquidity risk associated with the payments of bonds principal is addressed on an ad-hoc basis and by anticipation. There is a monitoring of liquidity risk in the financial management committee with a particular focus on liquidity risk over 180 days as detailed in the paragraph below.

4) Foreign exchange risk

As of 31 December 2022, La Banque Postale Home Loan SFH has no foreign exchange risk exposure.

VII – Coverage of liquidity need

Pursuant to article R. 513-7-1 of the French Code Monétaire et Financier, the liquidity need is computed over a 180 days period in “transparency”. The cash-flows of the home loans received in collateral are recorded as inflows rather than the cash-flows of the “Credit Facility” guaranteed by the Home loans. The cash inflows are fungible (principal and interest) and in order to cover the cash outflows. Home Loans prepayments are included in the valuation of the cash inflows.

For soft bullet covered bonds, the extended maturity is used to cover the 180 days cash requirement. The cash outflows over the next 180 days only relate to the payable Covered Bonds interests.

As of 31 December 2022, the liquidity need over 180 days is null and thus covered.

VIII – Maturity structure

Breakdown of mortgage bonds by maturity profile:

The only financial asset owned by la Banque Postale Home Loan SFH is the bond portfolio mentioned in “paragraph II - Exposure to public entities” with an outstanding of 10.9 millions Euros and which maturity date is 25th May 2023. The maturity structure of the covered bonds is presented as follows:
